JURY CLEARS CLYDE WILDER

Homer Man Charged With the Illegal
Sale of Liquor Found
Not Guilty.

INCIDENT OF HIS ARREST

Taken Into Custody on Grand Jury Indictment When he Asked For Hunter's License.

Clyde Wilder, charged with the illegal sale of liquor at Homer last summer was tried in the circuit court today and he was found not guilty by the jury which heard the evidence.

Wilder was arrested recently when he went into the clerk's office to buy a hunter's license. He applied for the license and when asked his name he gave it in the ordinary way. Sheriff King who was near jumped up when he heard the name and placed the man under arrest for violation of the liquor law. Wilder changed his mind after pleading not guilty and then pleaded guilty to the charge. He was released on bond.

The trial began at 10:30 o'clock this morning and the evidence continued until shortly after two o'clock this afternoon, when the argument was heard and the jury went out. It was brought out in the testimony that a party of Homer young men went to Milroy one day during the month of June last summer to play ball. Witnesses testified that there was a case of beer in the party and that it belonged to Wilder who was also along. It was brought out that Wilder had sold pint bottles of beer to several parties in Homer.

Wilder conducts a barber shop in the Odd Fellows building in Homer. It is said that there has been considerable bootlegging in the vicinity of Homer and that the authorities intend to break it up. Wilder was arrested on an indictment returned by the grand jury. Prosecutor John C. Cheney of Shelbyville was here to represent the State in the case.

Heads of Philadelphia's police department plan to equip each patrolman with a pocket electric searchlight.

GOMES BACK TO SEE OLD VILLAGE

Charles O. Walls, After Forty Years
Absence From Orange Only Recognizes the Church.

COMES FROM NEW YORK CITY

After having been away from the little village of his childhood days for forty years, Charles O. Walls of New York City went back to Orange yesterday just to see how the old place looked. He recognized just two things. One was the little old church on the corner, and the other was a man, an old friend, with forty years more added to his life. And this same man was the only one who recognized Mr. Walls. Since leaving Orange Mr. Walls has had varied experiences and is now located in New York City. But with all the attractions of the city, there came a yearning to see once more the old home place back in Indiana. And he came, but just a few hours was enough and he left last night.

THE WEATHER

Fair tonight. Colder in southeast portion. Saturday cloudy. Probably snow in south portion.

LIBERAL RESPONSE NEEDED IF ALL CHILDREN ARE HAPPY

Eleven More Names Received and They Must be Taken Care of by

Total .....$92.69

The receipts for the Santa Claus fund today were a little better than yesterday, but unless tomorrow exceeds both today and yesterday the hundred mark will not be reached by tomorrow night.

The manager feels sure that this mark will be reached by tomorrow in spite of the fact that today's receipts did not make half the amount needed. Every time a dime came into the fund today there was rejoicing and when anything better came there was double rejoicing.

But just now there is another thing, which is causing some uneasiness. Today eleven more names of children were received and these should by all means be taken care of. They are little ones and their Christmas will not be happy unless there is enough in the fund to help Santa Claus. The present size of the fund and the present indications are that they can not be helped unless there is a material growth in the amount of money at once. But the workers are still optimistic and believe the people of the county who are sure of a happy Christmas will not let a few children be neglected just for a few dollars. With just a little more help every child in the city will have a happy Christmas if money and good will can make it happy.

And it is believed that the final response from the people of the county will be sufficient to remember every boy and girl who has not been provided for so far.

EARLY MORNING FIRE EXCITING

Carthage People Suddenly Awakened to Find That Small Barn is Burning.

WHISTLE GIVES THE ALARM

The stable on the lot of Mrs. Ann Hunt, corner of Main and First streets in Carthage burned this morning between one and two o'clock. No cause is known for the fire. As the stable was empty the loss is small. The strawboard whistle gave the alarm, causing a great deal of excitement. The people were quickly aroused from their peaceful slumber and in a minute every corner of the sleeping village was wide awake. The cause of the alarm was soon known and there was plenty of assistance to keep the fire from spreading.

COINCIDENCE IN SAD NEWS

Minister and Wife Called to Mother's Bedside on Same Date.

Mrs. R. W. Abberley and daughters, Elizabeth Jane and Louise, left this morning for Lincoln, Neb., to be at the bedside of her mother, who is in a critical condition from cancer. Her mother's condition has been serious for some time, but last night Mrs. Abberley received word to come at once.

Just one year ago today the Rev. R. W. Abberley was called to Columbus, Ohio, by the death of his mother.

NO PLACE FOR TENDERFOOT

All Such Warned to Stay Away From Men's Meeting.

"If you are a tenderfoot you had better not come," is the notice sent out concerning the men's meeting to be held at the Arlington M. E. church Sunday afternoon. The meeting will begin at 2:30 o'clock and Evangelist O. A. Miller of Chicago, who has been conducting special meetings at the church with the pastor, S. A. Morrow, will speak to men and boys over eight years of age. "Come, it's free," is another phrase in the announcement.

MAY BE MARSHAL OF PORTO RICO

Lee Nixon, Formerly of This City is Indorsed by Beveridge For the Appointment.

WORKED ON THE REPUBLICAN

Lee Nixon, who formerly was employed in the Republican office here, and now has relatives in Carthage, may get the appointment as United marshal of Porto Rico. He was city clerk of Indianapolis after leaving here. A dispatch from Washington, D. C., says:

Lee Nixon of Indianapolis may be appointed United States marshal of Porto Rico. He is in Washington looking after his claims for the office.

Until today the indications were that he had a good show for the appointment, but some complications have arisen that make the outcome more uncertain.

Gen. Clarence R. Edwards, chief of the Insular Bureau, has indorsed the present marshal for reappointment. He is a brother of Representative Hubbard of Iowa, and has a congressional "pull." Mr. Nixon has the backing of Senator Beveridge and former Representative Overstreet. He is postmaster at San Juan.

At a recent exhibition of woman's work in London there were exhibited five safety razors invented by women.

THIEVES BREAK INTO A BOX CAR

Stole Several Pairs of Rubbers at the Big Four Station Last Night.

BELIEVED TO BE LOCAL TALENT

"Dirty" Robbers Opened a Box of Soap, But Deigned Not to Take Filthy Stuff.

City Marshal William Price was called to the Big Four depot early this morning to investigate a robbery which occurred during the night. A box car had been broken in and several pairs of rubbers stolen. The thieves left no tracks and so far the authorities have been unable to locate them.

The freight agent found the car broken open this morning and immediately notified the police. Investigation proved that the thieves had left no trace whatever and the agent has given up hopes of ever locating them. A close search was made of the ground in the vicinity of the car, but no tracks could be found in the snow.

The box had been broken open with a sharp instrument and only a few pairs taken. The fact that such a small number of pairs and not the whole box taken, points to the work of local talent. The goods stolen were valued at from ten to fifteen dollars.

The consignment of rubbers was being shipped to a Westport merchant. The robbers had evidently heard of the rise in the price of rubber and were attempting to get in on the ground floor and corner the market. They also opened a box of soap but did not take any for they were dirty thieves and would not condescend to such small thieving when they found they were stung.

COUNTY COUNCIL WILL MEET.

The county council will meet in special session tomorrow to appropriate money to make up the deficiency in the regular yearly appropriations which fell short this year.

—Percy Walker and Amos Blackledge were in Cincinnati today on business.

From Theater to Club Room--A Remarkable Change

Old Melodeon Hall Opened In 1872 With a Big Ball--Brigham Young's Seven- teenth Wife First Lecturer in Old House

The hand of time has again straightened out its fingers, doubled them up and the result is that a landmark is no longer a landmark. The place which has long held a place close to the hearts and pocket-books of the people is gone—gone forever. Tonight the feet of Rushville society will trip where thousands have sat and applauded until the posts behind which nobody liked to sit have trembled; and hissed until the villain has had his salary raised.

The old Melodeon hall, not opera house, for it was melodeon hall long before it was an opera house, is gone—never to return and though it is no occasion for tears it is—well the hand of time has unfolded its fingers and doubled them up again.

The peculiar thing about the whole affair is that the old melodeon hall which made Rushville envied by every surrounding town was formally opened with a big ball. That was back in 1872. And it was a big occasion for the town—for Rushville was not yet a city. Think of a town having such a pretentious place. All the elite and their best friends made a night of it. They banqueted across the street in the Wilson house. The Windsor was then owned by John Wilson. After the banquet they tripped "the light fantastic until the wee small hours" and at that time that dear old phrase was just as proper as bring on your Eskimos is now. Smile not at the phrase—age must be respected. That dance was long remembered, and those, who were not among the chosen many, were scorned by those who were. It was even more important than the formal opening of the Social club will be tonight.

Another thing which made the house famous is that Brigham Young's seventeenth wife was the first paid attraction in that old house. People did not pay to see her, but to hear her, and the chances are that she would have just as good a house today as she had then—even at $1 per—the price charged on that memorable night. At that time there were five hundred seats in the house, and all on the level. Grand Carr was one of the ushers and says he remembers well that he received $6 for his work. His father, James H. Carr managed the attraction. The other usher was Dr. Will Kennedy, who is now in Los Angeles, Cal.

At that time the house was owned jointly by J. B. Reeve, George H. Puntenney, Col. E. H. Wolfe, Charles Mauzy and Marcus Behr. There were five sections of seats in the house lettered W, O, L, F, E, making a total of 500 and they started at one and ended at five hundred. So your seat check might have been numbered five hundred which meant that you drew the northwest corner. The house was leased by the night.

Then began the tirade or whatever it was of the "dramatists," sleight-of-hand performers, lecturers, character artists, etc. Turner and White put on the hair raising brand of melodramas, Ab Burnett imitated everybody from the baby to grandmother, and the Swiss Bell Ringers always got the applause for "clapping" was in their line. And incidentally some noted actors have appeared on that stage.

Gradually the place came to be a play house and the name melodeon hall was relegated to the attic and it came to be known as an opera house, although the ink has faded clear away on the records which show that anything like an opera was ever attempted in the place. Of course, Signor Blitz took his turn at the stage here, but then in the main the melodrama was the pay dirt.

Ah you remember how you have sat there and scarcely breathed when the villain approached from the dark corner to strike down the unprotected hero. But in all its long career not once did the villain accomplish his purpose. Every time—remarkable, but true—somebody came to the rescue, and the villain retired amid the hisses for himself and the applause for the hero.

You remember how you used to go there and try to get in just at the right time in order to avoid the applause from the spit row. The proper name, of course, would be sputum row, but they never called it that. Really it was a bit embarrassing to take a girl there and have the bunch call out your name and applaud. You blushed and she blushed, but then think how much more you enjoyed the show.

Were you ever an usher at the opera house? That was the prize position of the city at one time. Gee, but how the fellow who didn't land a job looked with envy on the man who did. Then the stage hands came in for their share of the envy, for it meant something to stand right at the side of the actor who was receiving $10 a week and board. And you were on the inside of the mechanical side of Lincoln J. Carter's trains and could proudly explain it all to the boys next day. To play the piano or assist in an orchestra whenever there was one was a position on a pedestal and the kids used to look with awe on the man who could land such a coveted place.

Ah how the villain did tramp up and down that stage. Rave about what he would do when he got the hero in his clutches. And he had him—had him—(it was always repeated for effect.) He would foreclose the mortgage on the farm if Mabel did not marry him. "Foreclose, yes foreclose" and those villains always put a mighty fierce sound into that word. Then Charley, the hero, the man whom the girl really loved, came to the rescue and saved the family from disgrace, and the audience from disappointment.

But now this is no more. The most polite conversation, the most subdued tone, the best of language will be used. Even where the actors of the days gone by have trod and raved, the guests tonight will sit and eat—quietly, calmly and without any threatened foreclosure of mortgages. Where the audience has sat and breathlessly awaited the arrival of the hero to save the girl, the guests tonight will dance, and to the music that far exceeds anything ever attempted in the most pretentious show. Where the "gallery gods" sat and talked out loud "during meeting" the men now play billiards. Yes, it is all different now. There you are—once an opera house, now a club room.

Truly the hand of time has unfolded its long fingers and closed them up again with marvelous results.

Gary is to get a $4,500,000 steel mill for Christmas. Gary must have a pretty big stocking.

Democrats who voted in Congress for protective duties no doubt voiced the desires of their home people. At least we have not heard that these Democrats were burned in effigy for standing forth as protectionists. The people know when they are well off, and the masses are committed to the protective principle. Congressmen do the will of the people.

The Indiana Lincoln League meeting February 12, at Columbus, bids fair to be the best convention ever held by the organization. Southern Indiana Republicans plan to make the gathering one long to be remembered. Preparations are being made by energetic committees, including a publicity committee which is using plenty of newspaper space in which to advertise the meeting.

The decision on the county option law meets with general approval, it is believed. The people in all but a few of the counties which have voted have expressed their approval of the law in no uncertain terms. If the law had been declared unconstitutional all the money spent for elections, all the energy spent for the cause of temperance, all the sore spots which were engendered by the elections in the various counties would have been wasted. The law has been found consistent with the constitution of the State. Whether or not it will be found to conform permanently with the people's ideas of morality, and whether it will prove a good thing for the State in general, time will only tell.

The bottom has been taken out from under an antedged argument which several people, people here in intelligent Rushville, have been making on the county option decision. Recently when the rumor came here that the law had been declared unconstitutional it is said, one man immediately made the remark: "It shows what money can do even with the Supreme court of the State." The statement has been made at different times insinuating that dishonesty could be practiced in the Supreme court.

Such statements are slanderous to the extreme and are without foundation. They strike at the very foundation on which this government is built, and although they seldom carry much weight they ought not to be overlooked. They deserve rebuke in the strongest terms.

Now that the decision on the county option act has been made, there is no one who will question the integrity of the court. They may think it has made a mistake, but they believe it is one of mind and not of heart. And if the court had decided that the act was unconstitutional it would have been the same. To say off hand that a court is corrupt is very bad. And to make the statement good with intelligent, thoughtful people it would take a mass of evidence. Courts may make mistakes as all other human beings, but to say there is something behind it all is silly and without foundation.

EDITORIALETTES

However, there is a bare chance that Mr. Lieber may be prejudiced in his opinion of the Supreme court decision.

But it is probable that no rooms were rented on the "rumor" of the decision yesterday.

Very few, except the ushers, will regret the disappearance of the opera house.

"Rushville's Luck" seems to be worrying a certain newspaper about 18 miles away. Not pointing out any particular one, but it is not west of here, and it is on the I. & C. traction line.

Some men enter the county clerk's office hunting a license and others for a hunting license.

Anyway those rumors "with good foundation" are ended now.

It should not be hard to find a receiver for the chicken business.

Poor old blind tiger! It can't see the importance of the Supreme court decision.

A man should be able to raise a few chickens and corn for his own use at least on a farm of 20,000 acres.

Santa In Connersville

(Connersville News.)

This has been another good day for the News Santa Claus fund, though, of course, not so good as yesterday, when just twenty-five dollars were added to the fund. Yet still it was a very satisfactory day. The total is now above $120, and it looks as if $150 would be easily reached before the fund closes. Many little people are in evidence today with dimes, quarters and nickels and it is especially good to see this as it proves that the Christmas spirit is being manifested by both young and old.

Someone sends the News a $5 bill, accompanied only by the words, "Another five spot." The giver's name is not known, but there is a record of a good deed done in stealth in his own heart, which will bring more real joy than twice the money. The Swastika club also sends one dollar.

HAD A REAL BUSY DAY

Judge Sparks Gave Continuous Performance Last Night.

Judge Will Sparks was busy in the continuing line last evening and continued the following criminal cases until the next term of court: For violation of the liquor law, nine cases against Frank Fueglistler of Milroy; ten against William Barton of Milroy; ten against Marion McClain of Carthage; for allowing minors to play pool, two cases against August Roth, seven against James McCormick and eight against Frank Porter.

AMUSEMENTS

"Gambling With Death" is the title of the film to be shown at the Palace theater tonight. It is a thrilling melodrama with several hair-raising climaxes and is said to be very entertaining. Miss Iva Brown will sing the popular illustrated song, "Bettie of the Prairie."

The Star-Grand will show a complete change of program tonight with a new film and a new illustrated song.

The vote in the baby contest at the Vaudet today stands: Frank H. Green, Jr., 286; Edwin Brecheisen, 32; Ward Hubbard, 209; William E. Wallace, 84; Leon Geraghty, 164; Marion Laey, 153; Harrie Jones, Jr., 38. Two good films will be shown tonight and the illustrated song will be "Won't You be my Honey."

SALESMAN MISSING.

(Richmond Item.)

The whereabouts of Frank Coffin, the missing Pogue, Miller & Co., hardware salesman, who is alleged to be short in his accounts, is still unknown. Circulars bearing a description and picture of the man have been sent to all cities and towns in this section of the country, and police everywhere are on the lookout for him.

Members of the firm that employ Coffin have received no word from him and they are not in a position as yet to announce what his shortage will be. He was said to have been seen in Dayton on Friday of last week, and later it was learned that he was in Findlay.

A vigorous search will be continued and it is probable that the arrest may be effected shortly. A reward of $25 has been offered for the arrest and detention of Coffin until he can be gotten hold of by Richmond police.

what's the rest of it?—and he is quarreling with a lady in black. Behold, says the doctor, they are one and the same."

"Why was Mr. Bailey not present
at the inquest?"

The detective's expression was peculiar.

"Because his physician testified that he is ill, and unable to leave his bed."

"Ill!" I exclaimed. "Why, neither Halsey nor Gertrude has told me that."

"There are more things than that,
Miss Innes, that are puzzling. Bailey gives the impression that he knew nothing of the crash at the bank until he read it in the paper Monday night, and that he went back and surrendered himself immediately. I do not believe it. Jonas, the watchman at the Traders' bank, tells a different story. He says that on the Thursday night before, about 8:30, Bailey went back to the bank. Jonas admitted him, and he says the cashier
was in a state almost of collapse.
Bailey worked until midnight, then he closed the vault and went away. The occurrence was so unusual that the watchman pondered over it all the rest of the night. What did Bailey do when he went back to the Knickerbocker apartments that night? He packed a suitcase ready for instant departure. But he held off too long;
he waited for something. My personal opinion is that he waited to see Miss Gertrude before flying from the country. Then, when he had shot down Arnold Armstrong that night, he had to choose between two evils. He did the thing that would immediately turn public opinion in his favor, and surrendered himself, as an innocent man. The strongest thing against him is his preparation for flight, and his deciding to come back after the murder of Arnold Armstrong. He was shrewd enough to disarm suspicion as to the graver charge."

The evening dragged along slowly.

Mrs. Watson came to my bedroom before I went to bed and asked if I had any amica. She showed me a badly swollen hand, with reddish streaks running toward the elbow; she said it was the hand she had hurt the night of the murder a week before, and that she had not slept well since. It looked to me as if it might be serious, and I told her to let Dr. Stewart see it.

The next morning Mrs. Watson went up to town on the 11 train and was admitted to the Charity hospital.
She was suffering from blood-poisoning. I fully meant to go up and see her there, but other things drove her entirely from my mind. I telephoned to the hospital that day, however, and ordered a private room for her, and whatever comforts she might be allowed.

Mrs. Armstrong arrived Monday evening with her husband's body, and the services were set for the next day. The house on Chestnut street, in town, had been opened, and Tuesday morning Louise left us to go home. She sent for me before she went, and I saw she had been crying.

"How can I thank you, Miss Innes?"
she said. "You have taken me on faith, and—you have not asked me any questions. Some time, perhaps, I can tell you; and when that time comes, you will all despise me—Halsey, too."

I tried to tell her how glad I was to have had her, but there was something else she wanted to say. She said it finally, when she had bade a constrained good-by to Halsey and the car was waiting at the door.

markable cures throughout the State during the past few months, the more convinced are they of the great merit of Root Juice. Thousands of people have been cured by it all over the country. Many that use it a short while are so loud in their praise that their neighbors crowd into the drug store to get some of the health-promoting Juice. Usually one bottle will convince, and it is but seldom that five or six bottles does not make a complete cure of indigestion, constipation, nervous weakness, rheumatism and other troubles arising from a diseased condition of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. It seems to cure by removing the cause. It heals and tones the organs that make and filter blood. People are going in crowds many miles to see the man that discovered the wonderful curative agent and get some of it. Wol-cott's drug store has the agency at this point. Root Juice is sold for $1 a bottle or three for $2.50.

NEEDFUL KNOWLEDGE

Rushville People Should Learn to Detect the Approach of Kidney Disease.

The symptoms of kidney trouble
are so unmistakable that they leave no ground for doubt. Sick kidneys excrete a thick, cloudy, offensive urine, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding. The back aches constantly, headaches and dizzy spells may occur and the victim is often weighed down by a feeling of languor and fatigue. Neglect these warnings and there is danger of dropsy, Bright's Disease, or diabetes.
Any one of these symptoms is warning enough to begin treating the kidneys at once. Delay often proves fatal.

You can use no better remedy than Doan's Kidney Pills. Here's Rushville proof.

Harrison Levi, farmer, 931 North
Sexton street, Rushville, Ind., says:
"I have tried a great many kidney remedies and I have found Doan's Kidney Pills to be the best. I procured them at F. B. Johnson & Co.'s drug store and besides strengthening my back, they remove the pains in my loins."

muddy and tired. As for Thomas, he went around dejected and sad, and I saw the detective watching him closely what did Thomas know? What did he suspect?

BOOKS RAKED TO RECOVER LOOT

Government Still Probing Into National Sugar.

HAS MADE AN OFFER TO SETTLE

Sugar Company Willing to Pay Over

$600,000 and Call It Square, but Government Agents Are Holding Back
With the Idea That They Can Show

Fraud to the Amount of $100,000 Additional—Heads of Big Sugar Companies Hasten to Deny Personal

Knowledge of Loot.

New York, Dec. 17.—An offer to settle for $600,000 has been made by the National Sugar Refining company, whose books are being raked by government lawyers to find how much the treasury has been defrauded of in years of sugar underweighing. A customs official familiar with the work of the prosecution said the offer had been made to Henry L. Stimson and W. T.
Denison, the government's special counsel, and that Mr. Stimson and Mr.
Denison are holding back with the idea that a complete examination of the books may show that $700,000 or more may be obtained.

The government is carrying on one investigation of the National's books and the National has experts at work on a separate set of estimates. In the ten years during which the underweighing was going on the National imported 4,000 cargoes, averaging about 400 a year. It was learned that the government experts have dug into the books deeply enough to satisfy themselves that the company owes upward of $700,000, but President James H. Post of the company denies that the amount is so large. His experts have covered importations for two years of the ten and have made out, so Mr.
Post said, an apparent debt to the government of from $200,000 to $300,- 000. He said, though, that the company has not completed its estimates.
Mr. Post could not believe that anybody connected with his company had been guilty of deliberate fraud. He thought that the advantage in weighing for ten years came about naturally—
through the friendship of government weighers with dock employees of the National and through the fact that the weighers always gave the sugar companies the advantage of a rising beam.
In the course of ten years the slight difference in weight between what a rising beam would show and what a falling beam would give might easily amount, he thought, to $300,000, perhaps one-fourth of 1 per cent of the duty.

"The fact is," said Mr. Post, "that the government weighers always gave the sugar trust the advantage of a rising beam, which meant a few pounds here and there, and naturally they got in the habit of treating other sugar concerns in the same way. Then, too, the government weighers are usually pretty friendly with the sugar employees on the dock and are anxious to let them make a good showing with their bosses. It is very easy by these two reasons to account for the comparatively trivial amount. We have been open and above board in all our transactions."

Mr. Post added that when he said the amount the National owed the government was approximately what had been forced from Arbuckle Bros., he did not mean to say the National owed $700,000. In such enormous transactions $200,000 or $300,000 is not so important as it would be in lesser businesses. He was presenting merely, he said, the company's incomplete estimates. He did not know what figures Mr. Stimson might have.

The customs official who said the National had made an offer of $600,000
to be released from prosecution said that he had gone over the matter pre-thoroughly and believed that $700,- 000 was about the correct figure.

GOING TO EXPLAIN IT

John Arbuckle Fixing Up a Statement
Regarding Those Short Weights.

New York, Dec. 17.—John Arbuckle
said that he is working on a statement which will be his personal explanation
of the underweighing of Arbuckle Brothers' sugar importations which were recently uncovered by government investigators and for which the firm paid $695,573. Arbuckle said that it would take him some time to prepare this statement, and it was impossible to say when it would be ready for publication.

"My skirts are clear in this matter,"
said he, "but you can understand that the ramifications of this matter are very great and that others who are not so fortunate are involved."

He insisted that in fairness to the other men he had spoken of he could not discuss the situation pending the publication of his statement. Mr. Arbuckle was asked if the American Sugar Refining company did not hold an interest in Arbuckle Brothers. This Mr. Arbuckle denies emphatically. He said that H. O. Havemeyer had tried hard, after the fight had been on for some time, to buy a 51 per cent interest in Arbuckle Brothers. "I told him," said Mr. Arbuckle, "that never so long as I lived should he have a dollar interest."

Lesson XII.—Fourth Quarter, For
Dec. 19, 1909.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, a Comprehensive Quarterly Review—Golden Text, II
Tim. iv, 7—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

LESSON I.—Paul a prisoner—the arrest, Acts xxi, 27-39. Golden Text, II Tim. ii, 3. "Thou therefore endure hardness as a good soldier of Jesus Christ." Paul knew that bonds and afflictions waited for him everywhere (20-23 margin), but whether he unnecessarily ran into some of them or not we cannot say. This was probably one of the three times that he was beaten with rods (II Cor. xi, 25). He accepted all as being in the will of that Just One for him and coveted only to be His faithful witness.

LESSON II.—Paul a prisoner—the plot, Acts xxiii, 11-24. Golden Text, Ps. xci, 2. "I will say of the Lord, He is my refuge and my fortress, my God; in Him will I trust." Beaten and his life sought by the mob, liable to be pulled in pieces by the frenzied Jewish council, how comforting must have been the visit of the Lord to him that night with those words: "Be of good cheer, Paul; thou hast testified of Me."

LESSON III.—Paul a prisoner—before Felix, Acts xxiv, 10-27. Golden Text, Acts xxiv, 16. "Herein do I exercise myself, to have always a conscience void of offense toward God and toward men." The topics of this chapter are the faith in Christ, righteousness, temperance and judgment to come, the hope of Israel, the resurrection of just and unjust and believing all things written in the law and in the prophets.

LESSON IV.—Paul a prisoner before Festus and Agrippa, Acts xxvi, 19-32. Golden Text, II Tim. i, 12. "I know whom I have believed and am persuaded that He is able to keep that which I have committed unto Him against that day." For the third time the story of Paul's conversion, the resurrection of the dead and the future glory of Israel, the present forgiveness of sins through Jesus Christ for all who will turn from the power of Satan unto God and the eternal inheritance.

LESSON V.—Paul a prisoner—the voyage, Acts xxvii, 13-26. Golden Text, Ps. xxxvii, 5. "Commit thy way unto the Lord; trust also in Him, and He shall bring it to pass." Paul's advice to tarry at Crete is unheeded. A two weeks' storm follows in which all expect to be lost—probably all except Paul and his party—but again the Lord comes to Paul either personally or by an angel and assures him that no life shall be lost and that he must be brought before Caesar.

LESSON VI.—Paul a prisoner—the shipwreck, Acts xxviii, 39, to xxviii, 40. Golden Text, Ps. xxxiv, 22. "The Lord redeemeth the soul of His servants, and none of them that trust in Him shall be desolate." Death and its master pursue Paul most relentlessly. The soldiers advise killing all the prisoners, and, that being avoided and all having escaped drowning, a deadly viper threatens his life, but the Lord delivered and used him to bless many during the three months' stay in Malta.

LESSON VII.—Paul a prisoner in Rome, Acts xxviii, 11-31. Golden Text, Rom. i, 16. "I am not ashamed of the Gospel of Christ, for it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth." We now see Paul dwelling two whole years in his own hired house as a prisoner and continually preaching the kingdom of God and teaching the things which concern the Lord Jesus Christ out of the law and the prophets and from morning till evening.

LESSON VIII.—Paul's story of his life, II Cor. xi, 21, to xii, 10. Golden Text, II Cor. xii, 9. "He said unto me, My grace is sufficient for thee, for my strength is made perfect in weakness." It seems a strange portion to be entitled "Paul's life story," but it does tell a marvelous experience of "a man in Christ," who suffered all but death, or, as he says, "deaths oft" and finally a martyr's death, for Christ's sake. The appearances of Christ to him on the way to Damascus and afterward were most exalting, and this one above the rest.

LESSON IX.—Paul on self denial, Rom. xiv, 10-21. Golden Text, Rom. xiv, 21. "It is good neither to eat flesh nor to drink wine nor anything whereby thy brother stumbleth." The believer, being a citizen of a kingdom of righteousness and peace and joy in the Holy Ghost and being filled with all joy and peace in believing, is supposed to live far above the mere eating and drinking for which so many live and be ready to deny himself any selfish gratification which might offend another.

LESSON X.—Paul on the grace of giving, II Cor. viii, 1-15. Golden Text, Acts xx, 35. "Remember the words of the Lord Jesus, how He said, It is more blessed to give than to receive." Again the lesson is one of being so conquered by Him who gave Himself for us that we cannot help giving ourselves wholly to Him for the benefit of others, even at the cost of becoming poorer by doing so, if only we can commend Him to others.

LESSON XI.—Paul's last words, II Tim. iv, 1-18. Golden Text, Phil. i, 21. "For me to live is Christ, and to die is gain." What shall we say of giving when we see Paul at the close of a life of untold suffering saying, Now I am ready to give myself a sacrifice, a martyr, for Him whose I am and whom I serve? He could look back over a life of self denying service since that great Damascus day, and he could look forward to a kingdom of eternal glory in the ages to come.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Prayer Meeting Topic For the Week
Beginning Dec. 19, 1909.

Topic—Our Christmas gifts.—Matt. ii, 1-11. Comment by Rev. Sherman H. Doyle, D. D.

The Christmas season always suggests giving. It was on the first Christmas day that Christ, "the unspeakable gift" of God to man, was born into the world. Christmas therefore speaks of God's gift to man, and the custom of giving gifts to loved ones and friends at this season of the year has become almost a worldwide custom. In no better way perhaps could we celebrate the birthday of Jesus Christ, the gift of God to the world, than by the giving of gifts. The example of our God is worthy of our imitation, and it is a beautiful sight at the Christmastide to see the spirit of giving that possesses all. The human heart is opened and liberality and generosity abound, and many who at other times are lacking in these things learn the joy and blessedness of giving as well as of receiving.

Taking a comprehensive view of Christmas giving, it may be summed up under three divisions—(1) our gifts to God, (2) our gifts to Christ, (3) our gifts to one another.

1. Our gifts to God. Giving to God is of supreme importance. But what shall we give? That which He desires. How often we try to discover what our friends or loved ones want before we purchase Christmas gifts for them. We should also give to God what He wants. And in the Bible He tells us His desire concerning us when He says, "Son, daughter, give me thine heart." Our hearts as a gift is His supreme want, for everything else goes with the giving of the heart. He who gives all the love of the heart surrenders all else with it. Therefore let us "love the Lord our God with all our heart." As never before let us at this Christmas season give Him the supreme place in our affections, and with this gift there will go time and money and service.

2. Our gifts to Christ. It is hard to separate God and Christ in our giving. Both are divine and both are one. "The Father and I are one." But their relationships to us differ, and thus we may speak at least of offering gifts to each. The heart can only be given to the Father through the Son. Yet the gifts of the wise men may suggest our gifts to Christ. (1) They worshiped Him. When they saw Christ "they fell down and worshiped Him." God the Son is worthy of our worship as well as God the Father. We should hold Him in the highest reverence, bow down before Him and give to Him the best devotion of our minds and hearts. (2) "And when they opened their treasures they presented unto him gifts." (a) Gold Christ needs and wants gifts of money. It is required to carry on His work in the world, and He wants it as gifts. Giving is constantly emphasized in the Scriptures, and we should give of our money to Christ. "Take my silver and my gold" should not only be sung, but acted upon, in the giving of our money to Christ. (b) Frankincense and myrrh. These were precious ointments of the orient. They were the best gifts, such as were given to kings. Such gifts should teach us to give our best gifts to Christ. "Give of your best to the Master." A small boy gave Christ five loaves and two fishes, seemingly a trifling gift. Yet Christ multiplied it and through it fed 5,000 people! Our gifts may seem small, but if they are our best and freely given to Christ He can make a great use of them.

3. Our gifts to one another. Christmas day witnesses a vast exchange of gifts. The tendency today is to give more expensive gifts than are necessary. Let us avoid it. Let us also not confine our giving to loved ones and friends, but make some gifts to the poor and needy. Exchange of gifts is largely selfishness, but a gift to one from whom we can expect nothing in return is the true spirit of giving.

The Knock-out Blow

The blow which knocked out Corbett was a revelation to the prize fighters. From the earliest days of the ring the knock-out blow was aimed for the jaw, the temple or the jugular vein. Stomach punches were thrown in to worry and weary the fighter, but if a scientific man had told one of the old fighters that the most vulnerable spot was the region of the stomach, he'd have laughed at him for an ignoramus. Dr. Pierce is bringing home to the public a parallel fact; that the stomach is the most vulnerable organ out of the prize ring as well as in it. We protect our heads, throats, feet and lungs, but to the stomach we are utterly indifferent, until disease finds the solar plexus and knocks us out.

Make your stomach sound and strong by the use of Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and you protect yourself in your most vulnerable spot. "Golden Medical Discovery" cures weak stomach, indigestion, or dyspepsia, torpid liver, bad, thin and impure blood and other diseases of the organs of digestion and nutrition.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" has a specific curative effect upon all mucous surfaces and hence cures catarrh, no matter where located or what stage it may have reached. In Nasal Catarrh it is well to cleanse the passages with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy fluid while using the "Discovery" as a constitutional remedy. Why the "Golden Medical Discovery" cures catarrhal diseases, as of the stomach, bowels, bladder and other pelvic organs will be plain to you if you will read a booklet of extracts from the writings of eminent medical authorities, endorsing its ingredients and explaining their curative properties. It is mailed free on request. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. This booklet gives all the ingredients entering into Dr. Pierce's medicines from which it will be seen that they contain not a drop of alcohol—pure, triple-refined glycerine being used instead.

It's foolish and often dangerous to experiment with new or but slightly tested medicines—sometimes urged upon the afflicted as "just as good" or better than "Golden Medical Discovery." The dishonest dealer sometimes insists that he knows what the profiered substitute is made of, but you don't and it is decidedly for your interest that you should know what you are taking into your stomach and system expecting it to act as a curative. To him its only a difference of profit. Therefore, insist on having Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. If not promptly supplied trade elsewhere.

Send 31 one-cent stamps to pay cost of mailing only on a free copy of Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, 1008 pages, cloth-bound. Address Dr. Pierce as above. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and strengthen Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

CHICKEN BUSINESS IS PUT TO ROUT

Rush Budd Appointed Receiver in the Case of Albert Lieber vs.

Carl P. Walls.

PARTNERSHIP IS DISSOLVED

The case of Albert Lieber, president of the Indianapolis Brewing company against Carl P. Walls, which was brought here from the Marion Superior court was finally finished yesterday evening after taking the time of the court for four days. The two men had been in the chicken business together and the plaintiff was suing for a dissolution of partnership, appointment of a receiver, and damages. Special Judge Ben L. Smith, who heard the case, found that the plaintiff was indebted to the defendant just $4.90 after all debts to each other had been cancelled. The partnership was dissolved and Rush G. Budd of this city was appointed receiver. The receiver was ordered to sell the property by the middle of January and make a report on the first day of the next term of court. Sexton & McCollin are attorneys for the receiver.

RULING IS AGAINST DICK WILSON & SON

Appeal to Board Results in Local Men Losing $400 For Breaking World's Record.

AT THE INDIANA STATE FAIR

The Board of Appeals of the American Trotting Association met recently and passed on over one hundred and fifty cases, one of which concerned local men. Dick Wilson & Son of this city filed a complaint before the Board against the Indiana State Board of Agriculture for the additional $400 offered by them to beat the world's record for pacers to a wagon, the contention of Wilson & Son being that in order to win the extra money they had to beat the world's record of 2:05 which was made several years ago. The contention of the Board of Agriculture was that the contract was such as to oblige them to beat the world's record on the day of the race which was acknowledged to be 2:02 3/4 and which was made by the team earlier in the season. The fastest mile the pair paced at the Indiana State fair was 2:04. The Board ruled in the favor of the Board of Agriculture and ordered only the regular sum paid not including the additional for breaking the record.
